

Since being put on the no call list my interuptions have basically stopped. I like it that way. I did get a call from a police benevolent assoc. yesterday, they were very intimidating, they shouldn't be allowed to call people either, they made it sound like I better give something or else.